THE TARIFF DEBATE

Consideration of Senate Amendments Begun Yesterday.

Lively Sparring Between the Opposition Leaders-Effort to Silence the Democratic "Kickers."

WASHINGTON, April 25. - After some minor matters had been disposed of in the Senate to-day, Mr. Harris asked for unanimous consent to consider the tariff bill from 1 to 6 o'clock each day this week. Mr. Harris being refused unanimous consent to his proposition, put it in the form of a motion, and said it could go over until tomorrow. The tariff bill was then taken up to be read by paragraphs. The first formal reading of the bill was dispensed with.

Senator Aldrich spoke against the bill when the first amendment was reachedthat fixing the date when it should go into effect. He asserted that no one knew the form in which the bill would be presented finally for the vote of the Senate, for the newspapers gave the information that negotiations were in progress on the Democratic side for the purpose of catching votes for the passage of the bill.

"What is the Senator's authority for that statement," inquired Mr. Vest. "I deny it emphatically and decidedly."

"Does the Senator from Missouri mean to say that negotiations are not going on at this time on that side of the chamber looking to the securing of votes to pass the bill," asked Mr. Aldrich.

Mr. Vest replied that it was an absurdity for anyone to hold any United States Senator responsible for charges contained in newspapers. "I mean to assert," he continued, "that within my knowledge no such negotiations are going on. The Senator's statements are absolutely incorrect so far as I know and believe."

"If the Senator from Missouri," said Mr. Aldrich, "says that no such thing is going on, then it is going on without his knowledge or connivance and consent, for I know that changes are being made in the bill from day to day to secure votes on the Democratic side of the chamber. No one can say what shape the bill will be in when it is finally put on its passage. Will the income tax be in it? Will the sugar tax

Mr. Platt followed on the same line of argument, enlarging upon it somewhat, however. During Mr. Platt's speech the intention of the Republicans to keep the Democratic Senators in their seats and, incidentally, to delay the bill was made manifest by the suggestion of Mr. Frye that there was no quorum present. During the roll call which was ordered a number of Senators came in, so that the call showed that sixty Senators were present. Senator Paimer said that if all the harm had already been done as asserted by the two preceding speakers, he did not see what objection there could be in passing

Mr. Aldrich interrupted him to assert that he had not claimed that all the harm was done; on the contrary, he believed it had barely commenced, hie had said that the country was suffering from paralysis of trade and business. "The term paralysis," said Mr. Palmer, "indicates a condition short of death. I understood the Senator to say some time ago that if Mr. Cleveland were elected it would paralyze the country."

"If the logical result of Mr. Cleveland's election is the passage of this bill he is right in his premises,' replied Mr. Aldrich. A long discussion followed, particl ated in by Messrs. Palmer, Aldrich, Dolph and Gray. Mr. Aldrich suggestei an ame d ment that the bil should, go into effect five months after its passage, to which Mr Vest emphatically objected.

Mr. Dolph again obtained the floor and began reading from a speech by Repre-sentative Tom Johnson in the House of Representatives on the tariff, when he was called to order by Mr. Gray for reading and commenting on a speech of a member of the other house who was not present to

The Vice President had read from Jef ferson's manual the rule declaring it breach of order to notice in one house a speech made in another in the same Congress on the same subject, in order that the actions of the members of two houses might be independent. The Vice President accordingly ruled as follows: "Under this authority, the Chair will hold that it wo li not be in order for a Senator to read a speech made in the House of Representatives." He afterwards made the rolling more specific by adding: "On the same question and in the same Congress." Mr. Dolph appealed from the decision of the Chair and Mr. Harris moved to lay the appeal on the table, which motion was c.rried by a vote of 43 to 2. The latter part of the day was occupied with good-natured bantering on both lies of the chamber and by a silver speech by Mr. Stewart, and at 6 o'clock the Senate adjourned on motion of Mr. Harris,

THE DIPLOMATIC BILL. Attempts to Lop Off Fees of Consuls

Defeated by Democrats. WASI ..... CON, April 25 .- Mr. Hepburn, after the reading of the journal to-day, interposed an objection to its approval, and forced the yeas and nays on Mr. Dockery's tioned at the Presidio, which has been a motion for its approval. Mr. Hepburn ad- fruitful source of discussion in army cirhered to his determination to allow absolutely no business to be transacted by unanimous consent until terms were made for consideration of Friday night pension bills. The journal was approved 243 to 0.

The House then went into committee of the whole, Mr. Bailey in the chair, and resumed consideration of the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, continued the role of economist. insisting upon an explanation of every small increase in the bill, and offering amendments to reduce the appropriations wherever opportunity offered.

Mr. Warner moved to increase the rank of the consul at Barcelona, Spain, to that of consul-general, and the salary to $1,500. The motion was agreed to. Mr. Herman offered an amendment to reduce the salaries of the consuls at Amoy, Canton and Tien Tsin, China, from $3,500 to $3,000. It was defeated. Mr. Hepburn offered an amendment providing that all fees of every character, official or unofficial, collected or received by the consuls at Liverpool, Hong Kong.

Amoy, Canton, Tien Tsin, Havre, Callao, Prague, Antwerp, Valparaiso, Colon, Ching Kiang, Fuchan, Sandow, Bordeaux, Belfast, Bradford, Demerara, Glasgow, Kings-Manchester, Vera Cruz, Matansas, Baslee and Montevideo should be turned into the treasury and their salaries should be their sole compensation. After a lengthydebate the amendment was defeated-55 to

Senator Turple knows very well that no such service pension bill will be prepared by the present Democratic pension committee until the session will have so far advanced that it will be too late to pass it through both houses.

Plan to Pension Letter Carriers. WASHINGTON, April 25 .- Representative Goldzier, of Chicago, at the instance of the Chicago Letter-carriers' Association, has presented to Congress a plan for a self-sustaining postat fund, modeled somewhat after Bismarck's plan for pensions to civil employes of the government. The bill provides for a deduction of 1 per cent. of the salaries of carriers, which shall be accumulated as a benefit fund for employes suffering from disabilities and for those retired after long and honorable service. As this measure emanates from the carriers, it is assumed that the trifling deduction in their salary will be acceptable to them, and, on the other hand, as the government is not called upon to provide the fund it can meet no objections on the grounds of governmental economy. As the carriers are government employes, the acby government agencies, and this, Mr. Goldzier said, would be accomplished without expense to the federal treasury.

Cleveland Favors the Canal. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 25 .-- In an address last night before the Alabama combined commercial organizations, Senator Morgan strongly urged concerted action in behalf of the Nicaragua canal-bill, of which he is the author. He said that in an interview with the President of more than three hours' duration Mr. Cleveland told him he was in favor of the canal, and be the crowning glory of the nineteenth century, but, nevertheless, the President said we must be cautious about it; that he had examined the safeguards that had been put in the bill and they seemed to him sufficient; that he could not see that there was any loophole for fraudulent action under the provisions of the bill. Senator Morgan said to the President: "When I go South I want to be able to tell my friends that you desire this canal built," and the President remarked: "I very earnestly desire to see it built; I don't know that I shall have any impediment to

Mr. Wise, chairman of the committee, has assured Mr. Conn that, in the event of a favorable report from Chicago, the bill will be promptly acted on in the House. ### THE HOOSIERS WIN IT

Indianapolis Defeats Grand Rapids in the First Game.

Over 3,000 People Witness a Pretty Contest-Sioux City, Detroit and Kansas City Win-League Results.

More than three thousand people saw Indianapolis win the first championship game yesterday afternoon, Grand Rapids being the victim. It was a great crowd, and the enthusiasm rivaled that of the Republican convention. The weather could not have been improved upon, and the people enjoyed every moment of the game. There was no time during the nine innings that the home team wasn't very much in it, and that fact accounts for the enthusiasm and enjoyment. The game was brilliantly played, and Indianapolis won it clearly on its merits, outbatting and outfielding Grand Rapids. The latter team is made up largely of ex-League players, and will prove formidable in the Western League race, for they hit the ball and put up a good fielding game. Their weakest spot is at second base, which Fred Carroll is covering temporarily, Sippi, a Canadian player signed for that position, not having joined the team as yet. Leidy, Gray and Phillips carried off the batting honors, the last two having triples that came in just at the proper time. Deveney's work at short was very fine, and, barring a fumble, Mills played a pretty game at second. A double play by those two players and Plock in the fifth inning, when things looked a trifle squally, was the prettiest fielding feature of the game, and created as much enthusiasm as anything that happened. Plock covered first in great style, and the outfield work was up to the mark. Phillips pitched a very strong game, improving right along. He had lots of speed, and was steady and effective. Westlake caught his usual good game. Graham had a little bad luck with hard

Great catches by Wright and George were the features of the visitors fielding, the latter cutting off two or more runs in the last inning by a wonderful catch of Mills's long drive nearly to the left field fence. Wheelock played a strong game at short. George's hard hitting won him much attention. He was always a success in that direction. Bad throwing by Carroll and Spies in the early part of the game cost several runs. Rhines was fairly effective, but a little unsteady.

Wheelock was the first man to face Phillips, and he flew to Deveney. Wright went out from pitcher to first, but George planted a single in right and reached second on a bad throw by Phillips. Westlake caught Carroll's high foul, retiring the side. In the last half McTammany struck out, but Leldy waited for four bad balls and Gray drove him around on a beauty to right center for three bases, which Carroll overthrew home, Gray keeping right along to the plate. The crowd made enough noise at this stage to be heard half a mile. Graham flew to George and Mills went out from short to first. Caruthers started the second with a single to left, stole second, reached third on a wild pitch, and home after McTammany had caught Pinckney's fly. Graham fumbled Watkins's hard hit grounder but Spizs flew to Deveney, and Knines went out at first. Carroll fumbled Deveney's grounder in the second. Westlake sacrificed and Phillips hit safe to right, taking second on the throw to the plate on Deveney, who scored. Plock sacrificed and McTamanny brought Phillips in on a single to left, but was himself caught stealing second a moment later. When Wheelock cracked out a single to left in the third and Wright followed with a double in the same direction, and George drove the ball over Leidy's head, scoring both men and taking third himself, the growd shouted for Grand Rapids and things looked a little bit gloomy. The spurt was short-lived, however, for Carroll flew to Deveney, Caruthers hit into Plock's hands and was chased back to the plate and George was caught on the line in a wild attempt to get home, Pinckney having meanwhile gone to first on balls. Phillips pitched with both head and arm in this nning, as well as the next, when Watkins hit safe to center as a starter, but was left on third base, where he was advanced by a sacrifice and a wild pitch, by Rhines' foul to catcher and Wheelock's strikeout. Indianapolis gave the crowd something more to shout about in the third, when Leidy was hit by a pitched ball and Rhines threw Gray's grounder low to second, placing both men safe. Graham sacrificed and Mills hit clean and hard to right, sending in the two runs. He stole second and Deveney went to base on balls, but Westlake flew to Wheelock and Phillips went out at first. With one out in the fifth George reached first on balls, second on Carroll's single to left center, and both men moved up a notch on a passed ball. Caruthers went to first on balls, filling the bases, but Pinckney hit to Deveney, who threw to Mills, the latter getting the ball to Plock in time to double Pinckney with Caruthers. Here the people took their hats off to their game little ball team and shoutlong and loud. With one out in the sixth Plock hit safe to left and stole second. Mc-Tamanny flew to Pinckney. Leidy went to first on balls and Gray hit safe to left, scoring Plock. Graham ended the inning

The visitors could do little or nothing with Phillips, getting but four scattering singles in the last six innings. In the eighth Indianapolis had another pretty double play, Mills touching Pinckney on the line and throwing to first on Watkins, who had hit an easy grounder to him. Pinckney had reached first on bails. The last half of that inning wit essed some more hard hitting by the Hoosiers. Phillips led off with a beautiful drive over Wright's head for three bases. Plock bunted to short and Phillips was caught on the line, Plock reaching second during the operation. McTammany went to first on balls, and Leidy hit to the left-field fence for two bases, sending the two runs in. Gray hit safe to center, but Graham went out at first from pitcher and George captured Mills's long fly, after what seemed a fruitless chase, cutting off any more runs. The crowd gave George a sendoff as he came in, and the catch was worthy all the applause it got. The visitors were rather easily disposed of in the ninth. Deveney throwing two of them out at first and Leidy having the other out. Grand Rapids is largely made up of old League players-Bob Caruthers, of St. Louis and Brooklyn; George, of New York; Fred Carroll, of Pittsburg; George Pinckney, of Brooklyn; Rhines, of Cincinnati, and Wheelock, once with Boston, forming a strong sextet, who will prove troublesome for all comers, Charley Mitchell, of Pittsburg, umpired in clean-cut style yesterday, his de-cisions being prompt and fair throughout.

was sufficiently large to indicate a healthy nterest in the several clubs, and the prospects for a prosperous season seem excellent. The second game between Indian-apolis and Grand Rapids will be played this afternoon, commencing at 3:30. Mauck and Snyder will probably be the home team's battery, while it is likely that "Germany" Schmidt, formerly of the Pittsburg League club, will pitch for the visitors. Between two teams as evenly balanced as these it is likely to be anybody's game, and there will doubtless be an ex-citing battle at the park this afternoon.
